Logging a Claim

In order to log a claim, the Claimant must find the FreightGuard link which will be on your carrier's website. By clicking on the link, you will be directed to the Claims Wizard, which will assist you in logging the claim.

A prerequisite to logging a claim is that the Claimant must capture a Waybill/Consignment note and Cost Price invoice as these are the minimum documents required to log a claim.

In the event that the claim is for damage, or short delivery, photos of the damages or proof of short delivery must be uploaded at the end of the claim capture. The Wizard will prompt the Claimant to upload these documents once the main claim details have been captured.

The Waybill/Consignment note number is the first item to be captured as per the screen shot below.

Step 1: Capture the Claim

The screenshot shows a web interface for 'FreightGuard Claim Submission'. At the top, there is a blue navigation bar with the word 'Home' in white. Below this, the main heading 'FreightGuard Claim Submission' is displayed in large blue font. Underneath the heading, a sub-heading reads 'Create and submit your claim and documents using the claims wizard'. The main content area is enclosed in a blue border and contains the following elements: a title 'Claimant Claim Submission With Documents Wizard', a paragraph of instructions: 'Please capture the details of your claim. The wizard will guide you through the screens. For the claim submission to be successful, please upload the supporting claim documents.', a bulleted list of required documents: 'Waybill / POD', 'The Cost price value of the goods', and 'Photographic evidence of damage'. Below the list, the carrier is identified as 'DTDC' with its logo. A label '* Waybill/Consignment Number' is positioned above a large, empty text input field. In the bottom right corner of the form area, there is a blue button labeled 'Next'.

Step 2: Enter a Waybill Number

There are 3 claim types. Loss, Damage and Short Delivery.

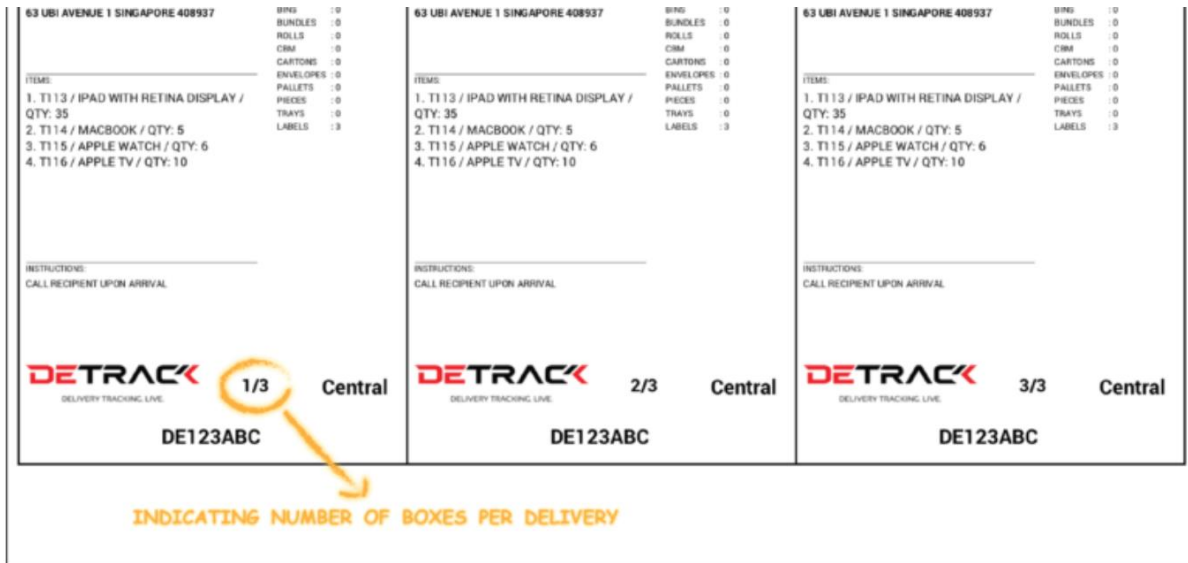

Loss is simply where the entire consignment has gone missing and cannot be located.

Damage is where there is evidence that the goods related to the waybill number captured, have been damaged in transit.

Short shipment is usually where there has been pilferage or where the number of cartons delivered is less than the number of cartons consigned.

For both damage and short shipment, the system will require photos to be uploaded.

Step 4.11: Enter the Number of Boxes per Delivery

In the above picture, the label shows number of cartons to be delivered. Where there is a short shipment, there needs to be evidence that either the goods were removed from the cartons, or the number of cartons delivered, is less than the number of cartons consigned. This can be shown by the numbers on the labels of multiple cartons as per above picture.

The Wizard will now direct you to the "next" button.

Step 4.12: Enter the Claim Details

The value of the claim will be its Cost Price value. That is the amount of the direct cost to the claimant and does not include his profit mark up or freight and other incidental charges. The value must be captured according to the format where a decimal point is used. e.g. R105.45 is one hundred and five Rands and forty-five cents.

The screenshot shows the "FreightGuard Claim Submission" form. The title is "FreightGuard Claim Submission" in large blue font. Below it, it says "Create and submit your claim and documents using the claims wizard". The section is titled "Claim Financial Details". A note in blue text reads: "Please note this value must be formatted by using a decimal point for the decimal separator. For example five thousand and ninety nine hundredths is captured as 5000.99". There is a required field for "Claim Value" with a red asterisk and an information icon. Below it are two radio button options: "Is Service Guarantee Paid?" with "No" and "Yes" options. At the bottom right, there are "Previous" and "Next" buttons.

It is important to know at this stage if the FreightGuard fee was paid to the carrier. This has implications for the assessment of your claim.
